DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

- 1. Applicant's amendments filed on 2/7/06 have been fully considered and are persuasive.
- 2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

As per independent claims 6 and 21, applicant's claimed invention is deemed allowable over the prior art of record as the prior art fails to teach or suggest wherein the first and second network interfaces are both coupled to insert data received from the processor and the first peripheral device, respectively, into the packetized messages prior to transmitting the data onto the communications link and to extract the data from the packetized messages received from the communications link prior to providing the data to the processor and the first peripheral device, respectively in combination with other limitations as recited in independent claims and further in view of the specification and applicant's arguments.

As per independent claim 14, applicant's claimed invention is deemed allowable over the prior art of record as the prior art fails to teach or suggest separating data received at the network software socket for the processor into packetized messages including network transmission protocol information within the packetized messages; transferring the packetized messages from the processor to the peripheral device within the packetized messages over the communication link and extracting the data from the packetized messages received over the communication link at the peripheral device in combination with other limitations as recited in independent claim and further in view of the specification and applicant's arguments.
